FARMLAND INVESTOR LETTER

Farmland Investor Letter is published by Mercator Research LLC, an independent company with no ties to real estate brokers, commercial farm managers or lenders. Edited by Michael Fritz, Farmland Investor Letter provides news, and analysis on land value and lease rate trends, as well as the impact of biofuels, interest rates, government farm programs and their influence on land values.

Our primary focus is to provide actionable market intelligence to assist landowners in managing their real estate holdings and maximize investment returns. In addition to individual landowners, our timely coverage and insights are valued by appraisers, family investment offices, endowments, lenders, real estate brokers, and other allied professionals. Our subscribers own or manage more than $2.5 billion in
